Live a full life, laugh with like minded people and learn because you can.

SOUTH COAST UNIVERSITY OF THE THIRD AGE (SOUTH COAST) INC.

Welcome to the U3A South Coast 2022 Program Booklet.

It seems we had quite a ride over 2021, yet even with many ups and downs, we are still here. Nothing will stop us being curious about our world, interested and engaged with our learning, and laughing while we do it. 2022 will be a good year - despite what Covid might throw our way. I'm happy to see that this year's program is, like our members, just as varied and vibrant. There are a few changes as well as some bright new courses. At the same time, most of our old favourites continue, with something for everyone to enjoy and belong to. So, dig in, have a good read and think about the great year U3A can offer you.

Best wishes
Sue Gelade, President

Enrolment Day 2022

10am to 12 noon, 11th January 2022 at the Lutheran Centre, 21 Adelaide Rd, McCracken

U3A in Australia believes in being a self-help learning cooperative. Its aims are to enable members to participate and collaborate through their socially based interactive learning groups, classes and presentations. Members exchange their knowledge, skills and experiences in widely ranging ways to learn from each other.

Here on the South Coast we offer a range of opportunities to engage, create, socialise and contribute greatly to each other's overall health, well-being and enjoyment. We see no distinction between learners, presenters, facilitators or group leaders; we are all U3A members. No formal qualifications are sought or offered to join a group. Learning is for its own sake, with enjoyment the prime motive, rather than certificates or awards at the end.

Visitors are most welcome and may attend a group twice before they are required to join U3A and pay a membership fee.

There are many and varied levels through which you can become involved:

- Join and enrol in a course or group
- Attend presentations
- Volunteer to help us with:
 - Program Planning
 - Administration
 - Finance
 - Publicity
 - Group Leadership
 - Tutoring
 - Audio Visual

Please contact us if you would like to assist in any way (see page 15)

Connects – Social Events for 2022

Breakfasts, Lunches and Coffee Mornings

With great optimism here is our social program for 2022. This may need some tweaking as time goes on. There are usually a large number of enrolled participants for this group, but not all can attend every occasion, which is expected because the venues wouldn't cope. You will receive an email update before each event where you can advise of your attendance - which is essential.

This happy group has successfully created new friendships and is a good source for sharing information. Your Coordinator needs to advise the venues of numbers in a timely manner, so please bear that in mind.

Online Learning with U3A

New!

U3A South Australia Alliance members have agreed to share online U3A courses being offered state-wide to its members.

Online courses can be shared by all U3A across the state. This sharing is being done in collaboration with the affiliated U3As and that includes South Coast (us). It's an initiative that will expand the knowledge, participation and opportunities for members and also expand the audience for our presenters – who may just become state-wide 'celebrities' across a wider audience! This trial will be completely voluntary and is absolutely simple to use. Some member organisations within U3A SA are already enjoying the benefits of this online technology.

At present Zoom is the most popular online means, but others such as Skype could be used and there may well be new technologies emerging. Watch this space!

Many more details, including FAQs, can be found on the U3A website, <https://u3asouthaustralia.org.au/> under the heading Statewide Online. Alternatively, please contact your U3ASC representative of this SA wide experiment:
